| Write about your first computer.

It was a second hand computer... Brand "Zenith" means Higher... I nearly treated my Laptop as my boyfriend... speaking with it, storing my personal stuff...afterall it is mine something is my own...I could remember koti sai while operating something I don't remember clearly the half screen separated from the base keyboard...though I was upset I couldn't say anything about that...then me and my Thambi had a lot of fights because I was studying 12th and I had questions papers in it but my brother often asks my lap for Playing games... I wouldn't because if we handle it a little hard it would automatically switch off 😂😂😂... Like handling a new born baby I used to care about it... 🖥️
